

An Index of Old Testament-Related Articles, Studies, Sermons, and Book Reviews in Theologische Quartalschrift / Wisconsin Lutheran Quarterly
(through Volume 117, Number 3, Summer 2020)

The intent of this index is to assist with providing background about previous research and understanding of the Old Testament in WELS. It builds off a prior, more comprehensive work:

Nass, Thomas P. // Author, Scripture, and Subject Indexes for the Theologische Quartalschrift/Wisconsin Lutheran Quarterly, Volumes 1-78 – 1904-1981.

https://www.wls.wels.net/rmdevser_wls/wp-content/uploads/2015/07/Index-WLQ-Volumes-1-78.pdf

First, this present index is in an important respect less than comprehensive in that it only lists works that are directly related to the Old Testament.¹ Additionally, since it is assumed that anyone using this present index will have access to search capabilities in their pdf-reader for locating entries by Scripture references or by key words, this index lists entries only by author. (On the other hand, while Nass's index runs through 1981, this index covers up through 2020, and while Nass's index decided to exclude sermons, exegetical briefs, homiletical helps, 'news and comments' items, and book reviews, this index attempts to include them all.)

Second, this index consists of two separate parts. The first part lists out – alphabetically, by author – all Quarterly-produced pieces related to the Old Testament. The second part lists out all book reviews published in the Quarterly concerning Old Testament-related works – also alphabetically by the author(s) of said books.²

Third, another resource that proved helpful for this project was:

Langebartels, James. // Index of Translated Quartalshrift [& Lehre und Wehre] Articles.

https://www.wls.wels.net/rmdevser_wls/wp-content/uploads/2015/07/Index-Translations.pdf

Langebartels' index assisted in particular by giving information on several OT-related Quartalschrift articles that were translated and printed in places other than the Quarterly.³

Fourth, this index was also briefly checked against the up-to-date author, subject, Scripture, and book review indexes maintained by the Wisconsin Lutheran Seminary library. These indexes

¹ It is recognized that the boundaries to this criterion are not completely self-evident. For example, some works are listed that discuss parts of NT that have close connections with OT studies (especially, but not limited to, Galatians and Hebrews). However, articles on hermeneutics or on the nature of Scripture in general are not listed, even though those areas certainly have much bearing on the study of the OT.

² The actual authors of the reviews themselves, although regularly noted at the end of the reviews in TQ / WLQ, are not included in this index. It was felt that this would have a cluttering effect in the first half of the index while not adding much in the way of beneficial information in the second half (considering the general consistency of the Quarterly reviewers in their perspectives).

are comprehensive in scope – covering all articles, news and comments, etc. – but only include English-language entries. At present, there is no way to access them directly online, but electronic copies are available on request from the library staff (library@wisluthsem.org).

Finally, volumes 1-46 of Theologische Quartalschrift (1904-1949) are currently available for free download (via Dropbox) at: <https://www.wls.wels.net/theologische-quartalschrift/> . Volumes 47-86 of Theologische Quartalschrift / Wisconsin Lutheran Quarterly (1950-1989) are available at a reasonable price on Logos. Wisconsin Lutheran Quarterly volumes 87-107 (1990-2010) are available on Logos, as well, at a slightly higher per-volume price. Finally, PDFs of volumes 108 and onward can be purchased through the Northwestern Publishing House periodicals department (email: nphperiodicals@nph.wels.net), currently at the price of $5 per number.

Notes:

- The volume number and starting page number of an entry are referred to in the following manner: volume#:page# (thus, the hypothetical article that began on page 123 of volume 45 would be cited as 45:123).
- A helpful memory hook from Nass: Since the first volume of the Quartalschrift was published in 1904, one can simply add 1903 to the volume number to get its year of publication.
- German language titles always indicate German articles, reviews, etc., unless an English translation is specifically cited.
- For ease of searching and use, Bible book names that were abbreviated in Quarterly article titles have been written in full.
- Furthermore, any German names of Bible books that differ from the English names have had their English names included in brackets [].
- Moreover, any Roman numerals that were used to indicate individual chapter numbers in the Bible have been changed to Arabic numerals.
- Also, the old practice of using a comma to indicate versification (such as John 3,16) has been updated to the current practice of using a colon (such as John 3:16).
- If a work is a sermon or is from the sections for homiletical helps or exegetical briefs or 'news and comments', this is noted with parentheses ().
- Any extra, explanatory notes by the compiler are marked with brackets [].
- The Quarterly volumes on Logos seem to have been digitized automatically and so sometimes show scanning errors – for example, with “home” mistakenly reading “horne” and other such letter misidentifications. When these occurred in entry titles, they were simply corrected and are not otherwise noted.
- In the book review section, no attempt was made to conform to one of the various academic citation formats. Rather, the entries follow this standard order: author(s), title, location of review in the Quarterly.
- In the book review section, parentheses following a title indicate the name of a series of books.
- Reviews of simple Bible History books were generally not included.
- Please notify the compiler at tim.matthies@als.org.hk of any errors or omissions that are found.
